

CONTRIBUTORS

Rasoul AFZALI – Associate professor at University of Tehran, Iran. Research interests: Middle East and Central Asia geopolitics. Author of 72 articles and 9 books. Latest article: Representation of the regional policies of the Islamic Republic of Iran towards terrorism (a study in the field of general geopolitics). Khatoni Mojtaba, Yazdanpanah Dero Qi-uomars, Afzali Rasoul, Ahmadi Seyyed Abbas (2021), “National studies”, 85(1). Contact: rafzali@ut.ac.ir.

Shurooq AL HASHIMI – an academician, who has recently graduated with Distinction from University of Wollongong in Dubai. She attained a master degree in International Relations. She also has an honor bachelor’s degree in International Affairs and a minor in Media and Communication Sciences from Zayed University. She works as Research Development Coordinator at the Office of Research, Zayed University. AL Hashimi manages Start-Ups offered to new faculty. She coordinates the university’s Research Ethics Committee (aka IRB). Last, AL Hashimi oversees students’ research related activities such as the Undergraduate Research Scholars Program (URSP) and Students Research Assistantship fund. Contact: shurooq.alhashimi@zu.ac.ae.

Alina BAIHUZHAKAVA – PhD Candidate in Security Studies at the University of Warsaw with the research focus on peacebuilding operations and activities in conflict-affected states. The doctoral dissertation is supervised by Ryszard Zięba. Graduated in International Relations from the University of Warsaw with specialisation in Security and Strategic Studies. Alumna of the research programme in Geopolitics and International Relations at the Manipal University in India. Member of the Women in International Security (WIIS) Brussels network. Awarded with the UNODA Scholarship for Peace and Security (2019). Contact: a.baihuzhakava@gmail.com.

Roman BÄCKER – full professor (2008) in Nicolaus Copernicus University. He is interested in political regimes, theory of bifurcation and methodology of political science. He is author and editor of many books e.g.: Neo-militant Democracies in Post-communist Member of the European Union, Routledge 2022; Nietradycyjna teoria polityki [Non-traditional theory of politics], UMK, 2011; Rosyjskie myślenie polityczne za czasów prezydenta Putina [Russian political thinking in times of president Putin], Wydawnictwo Adam Marszałek, 2007; Totalitaryzm. Geneza. Istota. Upadek [Totalitarianism. Genesis. Essence. Collapse], Index Book, 1992; Metodologia badań politologicznych [Methodology of Political Sciences], 2016 (in Polish), free access, Tbilisi 2018 (in Georgian). Contact: backer@umk.pl.

Tomasz BRAŃKA – he is a holder of PhD in political science. He studied in Poland and Sweden. An Associate Professor at Adam Mickiewicz University, Faculty of Political Science and Journalism in Poznań. Author of over 40 academic works published in Poland, Sweden, Germany, Czechia, and Russia. Speaker at over 50 academic conferences worldwide. Guest lecturer in the field of political and European studies at numerous universities in Sweden, Finland, Iceland, Greenland, Spain, Turkey, Azerbaijan, Russia and USA. Participant in more than 30 international projects. His main research interests focus on autonomous solutions in contemporary international relations, non-sovereign entities in international relations, regionalism, international environmental protection and sustainable development. Author of several research papers on EU relations with Overseas Countries and Territories (OCTs). Experienced in EU research, international cooperation, teaching and organization of the research. Institutional Coordinator of Erasmus+ at Adam Mickiewicz University, Poznań, and active member and lecturer of the Baltic University Programme. Contact: tomasz.branka@amu.edu.pl.

Yu-Hua CHEN – Assistant Professor in China Studies at the Global Studies Programme of Akita International University, Japan. Prior to teaching at Akita, he was a visiting fellow at George Washington University and a lecturer at the Australian National University. His research interests include China's foreign and security policy, history of modern China, IR theory, foreign policy of Taiwan, and geopolitics. His current research is centered around topics related to 'rivalry with China'. Contact: ychen@aiu.ac.jp.

Robert CZULDA – PhD, assistant professor in the Department of Foreign and Security Policy Theory at the University of Lodz, former lecturer at the University of Maryland (2017–2018, Fulbright Senior Award). Commentator on Iran working with the Atlantic Council in Washington, D.C. and DefenseInfo's Security and Defense Affairs in Washington. Visiting lecturer at Islamic Azad University in Tehran (2016), National Cheng-chi University in Taipei (2013), and universities in Indonesia, Brazil, Turkey and the United States, among others. Winner of a scholarship from the Birch Lanckoronski Foundation (2014). He is a regular journalist with Polish and foreign magazines, as well as an analyst for Iran and the Persian Gulf working with IHS Jane's. Contact: rczulda@uni.lodz.pl.

Lesia DOROSH – is Associate Professor of the Department of Political Science and International Relations of Lviv Polytechnic National University (Ukraine) and has an academic degree of PhD in Political Science. The area of scientific research of Lesia Dorosh: political theory and theory of international relations (in particular the foreign policy of Ukraine, aspects of international, European and Ukrainian security in modern world), issues of current state building of Ukraine. She has developed the courses: "International and European Security", "Theory of International Relations", "Foreign Policy of Ukraine", and "Fundamentals of Geopolitics and Geostrategy". She published more than 40 scientific articles in political science and international relations in Ukrainian and foreign reviews. Contact: lesia.o.dorosh@lpnu.ua.

Ali Bagheri DOLATABADI – Political Science Department, Faculty of Humanities, Yasouj University. Teaching: 2008-until now at Yasouj University, Iran. Member of Department of Political Science at Yasouj university. Member of Iranian Political Science Association. Contact: abagheri@yu.ac.ir Gökhan ERDEM – Assistant Professor at Ankara University Faculty of Political Sciences International Relations Department. Scientific Interests: Diplomatic History; Turkish Foreign Policy; Ottoman Diplomacy. Recently published article: Erdem, Gökhan, İmparatorluktan Cumhuriyete Dış Politikada Süreklilikler, Osmanlı Diplomasi Tarihi: Kurumları ve Tatbiki, ed: Ahmet Dönmez, Ankara, Grafiker Yayınları, 2019. Contact: gerdem@politics.ankara.edu.tr.

Radosław FIEDLER – Associate Professor at Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań, Poland. He is also Director of the Doctoral School of Social Sciences and Head of the Department for Non-European Political Studies at the Faculty of Political Science and Journalism. In the academic year 2019–2020 prof. Fiedler was a visiting scholar (the Bekker Program – the Polish National Agency for Academic Exchange) at the Arnold A. Saltzman Institute of War and Peace Studies at Columbia University in New York City. Contact: radoslaw.fiedler@amu.edu.pl.

Andrzej GAŁGANEK – political scientist, philosopher, Professor. Chief Department of International Relations at the Faculty of Political Science and Journalism at the Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań. A. Gałganek is interested in theory, history and philosophy of International Relations. His last books explore history of theory International Relations [History of Theory International Relations, PWN, Warszawa 2009 (21)], history of international relations (History of International Relations. Uneven and Combined Development, Elipsa, Warszawa 2013, Vol. 1 and 2) and philosophy of International Relations (Philosophy of International Relations. Ontology Epistemology Methodology, Universitas, Kraków 2021). His current interests focuses on questions of sensual internationality and internationality in travel writing. Contact: andrzej.galganek@amu.edu.pl.

Tetiana GLUSHKOVA – PhD in Social Communication. Associate Professor, Department of Advertising and Public Relations, Taras Shevchenko National University of Kyiv. Graduate of the Faculty of Philology, Kirovohrad State Pedagogical University named after Volodymyr Vynnychenko (graduated in 2004). Areas of research interest: public relations technology, public opinion shaping, linguistic specifics of audience manipulation. Author of more than 20 research papers. Contact: t.glushkova@gmail.com.

Wojciech GRABOWSKI – Professor (post-doctoral degree), is affiliated researcher at the Institute of Political Science at the University of Gdansk. Working across the disciplines of political science and international relations his research examines regional cooperation of authoritarian states of the Middle East, including the changing role and position of Persian Gulf states (Gulf Cooperation Council) in the regional and global order. He was visiting researcher at the Qatar University (2014), King Faisal Foundation in Riyadh (2015), Al-lameh Tabataba'i University in Tehran (2016) and Jawaharlal Nehru University (2016) or National University of Political Sciences and Public Administration in Bucharest (2018). He is an author of two monographs Współpraca regionalna państw autorytarnych: stadium przypadku arabskich państw Bliskiego Wschodu [Regional cooperation of authoritarian states: case study of the Arab states of the Middle East] and Fundamentalizm muzułmański na Bliskim Wschodzie [Muslim fundamentalism in the Middle East] and editor of Ewolucja terroryzmu na przełomie XX i XXI w. [Evolution of terrorism at the turn of XX and XXI century]. Contact: wojciech.grabowski@ug.edu.pl.

Nargiz HAJIYEVA – the distinguished PhD Research Fellow and Political Scientist at the School of Economics and Political Science (SEPS – HSG) at the University of St. Gallen, and the Federal Scholarship Holder (ESKAS) granted by the Swiss Government Excellence Scholarships program of State Secretariat for Education, Research and Innovation SERI of the Confederation of Switzerland. She also an honored member and a research fellow of the Democracy NET – Young Scholars Network within the Department of Political Science and International Law at the University of Zurich (<https://democracynet.eu/people/member-profiles>) and also of the Swiss Political Science Association (SPSA) in Bern, Switzerland. Contact: nargiz.hajiyeva@student.unisg.ch.

Uliana ILNYTSKA – is Associate Professor of the Department of Political Science and International Relations of Lviv Polytechnic National University (Ukraine) and has an academic degree of PhD in Political Science. The area of scientific research of Uliana Ilnytska: international organizations as subjects of international relations; non-governmental international actors in the world political process; international communications; information and communication activities in international relations; functioning of political institutions in modern democratic societies; political communications; political technologies; information and communication activities of political institutions; political marketing and management, political theory and theory of international relations. She has developed the courses: “International organizations”; “Strategic communications in international relations”; “Communicative activities in international relations”; “Information and analytical activities in international relations”; “Public Relations”; “Information support for the activities of public authorities and local governments”. She also published more than 40 scientific articles in political science and international relations in Ukrainian and foreign reviews. Contact: uliana.v.ilnytska@lpnu.ua.

Bilal Bahadır KARACA – M.A., is a doctoral student at Prague University of Economics and Business in International and Diplomatic Studies. He earned his master’s degree in International Relations at Charles University. His research is focused on the foreign policies of Central European states and Turkey. He is highly familiar with topics of migration and foreign policies of Balkan countries as well. Contact: bbkrc@yandex.com.

Vitalii KORNIEIEV – Doctor of Sciences in Social Communication, Professor, Department of Social Communication, Taras Shevchenko National University of Kyiv. Author of more than 30 research papers. Contact: vmkorn@knu.ua.

Michał KOSMAN – is a graduate of Political Science at the University of Adam Mickiewicz in Poznań. In 2004, he obtained a doctoral degree in the field of political science, and in 2014 a postdoctoral degree. The main directions of his research focus on international relations, in particular German foreign policy, European integration and Middle East issues. He is the author of many publications in this field, including four books on Germany’s participation in European integration processes, Germany’s policy towards Russia and the Russian-Ukrainian conflict over Crimea. His research interests also include the problems of superpowers in international relations, as well as broadly understood security in terms of both global and regional scale, or the role of the international organizations in solving security problems. From 2014, he is professor at the Kazimierz Wielki University in Bydgoszcz. Since 2020, he has been the head of the Department of International Relations at the Faculty of Political Science and Administration of UKW. Contact: michal.kosman@ukw.edu.pl.

Berk KÖKSAL – M.A., in 2020, prepared his master's thesis entitled: Comparative Negotiation Analysis of the Syrian Peace Process at Charles University, Faculty of Social Sciences, Institute of Political Studies. Department of International Relations. His main research interests: Syrian Civil War, International Negotiations, Middle East, Theories of International Relations. Contact: koksal.berk@gmail.com.

Oksana KRUCHININA – is Assistant to Associate Professor of the Department of Political Science and International Relations of Lviv Polytechnic National University (Ukraine) and has an academic degree of PhD in International Relations. The area of scientific research of Oksana Kruchinina: NGO's role in the international relations system, aspects of international and Ukrainian security, issues of public diplomacy, political theory and theory of international relations. She published 8 scientific articles in political science and international relations in Ukrainian and foreign reviews. Contact: oksana.y.khar@lpnu.ua.

Muzaffer KURAL – PhD Candidate of International Relations, University of Warsaw. Scientific Interests: Middle East, Persian Gulf; Turkish Foreign Policy; Turkey, Iraq, Iran, Syria. Recently published article: Saudi Arabia's Stance on Bahrain's Arab Uprisings: Causes and Consequences, in: Beyond Europe: Central Asia, the Middle East and Global Economy (eds. Tadeusz Wallas, Sang Chul Park, Radosław Fiedler, Przemysław Osiewicz), opublikowany przez Logos Verlag Berlin, 2021. Contact: m.kural@uw.edu.pl.

Paweł LUZAK – a diplomat, political scientist, and PhD of social sciences. His research interests cover: international relations in the Indo-Pacific region, China's foreign policy and the US-China power competition. He currently serves as an economic officer at the Polish Embassy in Washington, D.C. Contact: pawel.luzak@gmail.com.

Adalat MURADOV – PhD, Professor of Economics Head of the Department of Economics and Business Management, Azerbaijan State University of Economics (UNEC), Baku, Azerbaijan Istiglaliyyat str. 6, AZ1001. He entered the doctorate of the Kiev State University in 1995 and successfully defended the doctoral thesis on Integration of the transition economy into the world economy in 1998. Area of research interests: Macro-economy, Economic policy, International economy and General theory of transition economy. Contact: adalat_muradov@unec.edu.az.

Rafał OŻAROWSKI – Professor, works in the Chair of Security at the Faculty of Law and Administration at the E. Kwiatkowski University of Business and Administration in Gdynia. He conducts his research on international security in the Middle East with a special focus on militarised non-state actors, international terrorism, Lebanese, and Iranian policy in the Middle East. He is the author of two monographs: Ideology in the Middle East (2006), Hezbollah in International Relations in the Middle East (2011); co-editor of many books: Arab World in International relations (2016), Religion, Society and Economic Issues in the Islamic World (2017); Political Dilemmas of the Arab and Muslim World (2017), The Islamic World in International Relations (2020) and author of many scientific articles. He was visiting researcher in the American University of Beirut and guest academic teacher at the University of Calcutta, Allameh Tabataba'i University in Tehran. Professor Ożarowski is a member of Central East European International Studies Association (CEEISA), Polish International Studies Association (PISA) and the Polish Society of National Security (PSNS). Contact: r.ozarowski@kadra.wsaib.pl.

Krystian PACHUCKI-WŁOSEK – M.A. – graduate of Eurasian Studies and International Relations. Doctoral student in the Doctoral School in the Social Sciences at the Jagiellonian University. Research interests: political and economic situation in post-Soviet countries with particular emphasis on the region of Central Asia. Author of the articles Old and New Uzbekistan – A comparative essay on the last years of Islam Karimov's reign and Shavkat Mirziyoyev's presidency; Change in the policy of the authorities of Uzbekistan towards cotton farming as a consequence of civil disobedience. Scientific editor of the publication Kirgistan – oblicza transformacji. Contact: krystian.pachucki97@gmail.com.

Vyacheslav RYABICHEV – PhD, Associate Professor, Department of Social Communications, Taras Shevchenko National University of Kyiv, author of over 60 scientific publications. Research interests: social media, information wars, local media. Contact: ryabichev@knu.ua.

Mohsen Shafie SEIFABADI – Assistant Professor of Political science. He teaches in Ardakan University. He is the Specialist of Iran Foreign Policy and author of the book From Hashemi toward Rouhani: A study on Iran Foreign Policy in Shadow of Constructivism Theory (Tehran: Teesa, 2013). He is currently working on a Series of articles on ISIS. He is the author of several books in political anthropology, including Imam Khomeini Anthropology and Indigenous Development in Iran (Tehran: Publication of Imam Khomeini organization, 2016), Religion Interpretation and Its Effects on Political Thought of Mohammad Taghi Mesbah-e-Yazdi and Mohammad Mojtabeh-e-Shabestari (Shiraz: Ayrik, 2010). Contact: shafiee@ardakan.ac.ir.

Syedmohammad SEYEDI ASL – PhD in International Relations (January) 2021, Gazi University Ankara – Turkey. Thesis Title The Effect and Use of Shia Sect Factor in Iran's Foreign Policy: A Geopolitical Evaluation. Chief editor: "Journal of New Studies in Jurisprudence", "Law and Political Science" (<http://www.jnsl.ir/>). (Persian Language). Review Board: "Acta Scientiae et Intellectus" (<http://www.actaint.com/>), 2018, Currently Research interests: Geopolitics, Security Studies, Middle East Studies. Contact: mmseyedi1365@gmail.com.

Jarosław STELMACH – PhD, Dean of Lower Silesian Department of Security and Social and Legal Sciences at The University of Public Safety and Individual "Apeiron" in Krakow (Poland). Lecturer at the University of Wrocław and the ERASMUS Program. CEO of a consulting and training company Safety Project and the founder and host of the International Antiterrorist Congress SAFE PLACE. He gained professional experience in units of aeromobile forces and special units of the Military Police. He completed numerous courses and trainings, including a specialist course for US Air Force police officers, and a course for police operations commanders and police negotiators. He performed the tasks of a negotiator in the Military Police and managed preventive actions for the security of military ceremonies and undertakings. His research interests focus on anti-terrorism, police negotiations, and legal and institutional dimensions of national security. He's the author of several monographs and scientific articles in this field. Currently, he's registered on the list of qualified security and technical protection employees. Moreover, he was an external expert in the Ministry of Interior and Administration task force for anti-terrorist security of the critical infrastructure in 2017–2018. Now he's an expert of the Polish Chamber of Persons and Property Security, and an expert in the Stakeholder Council at the Faculty of Political Science and International Studies at the University of Warsaw. Contact: jastelmach@wp.pl.

Krzysztof SZEWIOR – Professor (post-doctoral degree), his research and teaching work focuses on social issues in the countries of the German-speaking countries and the European Union. Specific research areas are higher education and national research systems, the European Higher Education Area and the European Research Area, social security in a comparative perspective of European countries. Contact: krzysztofszewior@uw.edu.pl.

Kamil TARHAN – PhD Candidate. I have a bachelor's (2016) and a master's (2018) degree from Selcuk University, Department of International Relations. I also took short-term training at WSPA University in Lublin, Poland, within the Erasmus program during the bachelor's period. Contact: kmltrhn.kt@gmail.com.

Sara TOMASZEWSKA – graduated from Faculty of Political Science and Journalism, Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznan. At present, PhD student at the Doctoral School of Social Sciences at the Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznan. Main research interests: biometric security, migration security, migration policies of Schengen countries and changes in migration policy in Poland. Research area within the dissertation: the evolution and importance of the European Border and Coast Guard Agency (Frontex) in the creation of standards for the management of migration security. Professionally, an employee of the Department for Foreigners of the Office of Wielkopolska Province in Poznan, where she deals with the legalisation of foreigners' stay in Poland and provides training in the security and protection of data processed via the Schengen Information System and the Visa Information System. Contact: sara.tomaszewska@amu.edu.pl.

